Carlos Eire,
T. Lawrason Riggs Professor of History and Religious Studies, Yale University

Professor Carlos Eire is the author of the recent monograph Reformations (Yale, 2016). His research and teaching converge upon the social, intellectual, religious, and cultural history of late medieval and early modern Europe, with a strong focus on both the Protestant and Catholic Reformations; the history of popular piety; and the history of death. He is the past president of the Society for Reformation Research and is a winner of the National Book Award.

Margo Todd,
Walter H Annenberg Professor of History, University of Pennsylvania

Professor Margo Todd specializes in early modern English and Scottish history and in the culture of Reformed (Calvinist) protestantism in Britain and early America. Her books include Christian Humanism and the Puritan Social Order, Reformation to Revolution: Politics and Religion in Early Modern England, and The Culture of Protestantism in Early Modern Scotland.
